Men Familiar With Big Presses Are Impressed With Beautiful Lines of Goss Company's New Product.

WORK OF MANTLING PROGRESSING SATISFACTORILY

Directors of the Waco ad club visited the plant of the Morning News last night and inspected the new machinery being installed. No better argument as to the permanency of the healthy newspaper infant could have been advanced than the imposing-looking Goss perfecting press and the late model stereotyping machinery. Most of the members of the club are familiar with big perfecting presses, and were at once impressed with the beautiful lines of the latest product of the biggest press makers in the world.

Nice progress was again made yesterday and last night by the large crews of workmen engaged in erecting the new high-speed plant. It will require only about sixteen days more of work to get the press erected and the stereotyping and color making machinery, the first ever shipped to Waco, ready for the big runs of The News, which has forced to front place within eighteen months after being projected, taking advantage of the wonderful distributing facilities afforded by a morning paper in the heart of Texas, and one that can reach out beyond the narrow confines of local circulation.

The new color press of The News reaches almost to the top of the ceiling and is a beautifully built machine. The color system used is the friction type, which will enable Waco to put out her first metropolitan colored newspapers.

Planned With Progress Made. The superintendent sent from the Goss factory in Chicago is delighted with the progress of the work thus far and expects everything to be in high-speed motion within fifteen working days. Mantling SIXTY THOUSAND POUNDS of intricate and high speed machinery of metropolitan type is quite a little task, said Conrad Malweki, the Goss expert, last night, "but I am working as many as we can get on the machinery, and everything will soon be all right for The News, which has bought one of our finest late models, and one of the fastest machines built."

MURPHY HAS PLAN TO NOMINATE CANDIDATE

ILLINOIS, INDIANA AND NEW YORK TO GET TOGETHER IF FIRST BALLOT FUTURE.

New York, June 13.—Norman E. Mack, chairman of the democratic national committee; Urey Woodson, secretary, and Roger Sullivan, Illinois leader, left New York this afternoon for Baltimore to take up the preliminary work of the convention there. Before departure Messrs. Mack and Sullivan discussed the situation with Charles F. Murphy, the Tammany leader. Their meeting gave rise to reports that a plan of mutual support between New York, Illinois and Indiana for a candidate at Baltimore, was under consideration in case there should be no nomination by the convention on the first ballots.

Some of the most influential leaders of the New York delegation are in favor of voting for Mayor Gaynor or Governor Dix on the first ballot. Among other candidates said to be under consideration by the New York delegation are Champ Clark and Gov. Harmon.

CUBAN TROOPS AND BOMBERS MIX IN BATTLE

Government Claims Big Victory: Very Few Men Killed Shown By Reports.

Havana, June 13.—Gen. Montecarlo, the Cuban commander in chief, reports to the government that column under Col. Valiente has defeated the forces of Estenos and Jovonet at Jara Huerca, killing many of the rebels. The Havana evening papers state that the rebels were routed and lost many hundreds of men and that it means a crushing blow to the insurrection.

The latest dispatches from Santiago, however, say that the reports are greatly exaggerated; that apparently it was only a small skirmish, five negroes being killed, with a government loss of one man wounded.

AUTO HIT STREET CAR: ONE DEAD, ANOTHER DYING

Wheeling, West Va., June 13.—Mrs. H. O'Brien of Martin's Ferry, was killed and Wm. J. Mohr of Adams, Ohio, a coal operator, fatally injured and three other women hurt tonight when their automobile ran into a traction car at Pleasant Valley, near here.

J.W. RIGGINS MAY HANDLE BIG DEAL

HAS BEEN OFFERED MANAGEMENT OF $20,000,000 PROPOSITION IN CANADA.

Sells Considerable Property Here and in Dallas—To Make Prospecting Trip.

After having disposed of most of his real estate holdings in Waco and North Texas, J. W. Riggins will leave shortly for a prospecting trip to British Columbia, where he has been offered the management of a $20,000,000 proposition. Mr. Riggins is one of Waco's best known citizens, having been mayor, as well as a majority candidate in two other elections.

Within the past two weeks Mr. Riggins has disposed of approximately $200,000 worth of realty holdings here and in Dallas, and it has been known among his friends for several days that he is contemplating removing to Canada. "While I cannot say positively that I will leave Waco for good," Mr. Riggins told The News last night, "I am at least contemplating such removal. I have received a most flattering offer from a $20,000,000 syndicate in British Columbia, which I do not well see my way to turn down."

"I will leave soon to look the proposition over, and if it looks as good on the ground as it does from this distance, I will certainly accept it."

The salary involved in the transaction, it is said, is in the neighborhood of $75,000 a year.

When Mrs. Charles Dwyer arrives at her home in Tulsa, Oklahoma, she will be greeted by news of the death of her husband, Mrs. Dwyer was visiting her mother-in-law, Mrs. Ed. Dwyer, in Waco, when she received the news yesterday morning that her husband in Tulsa had been stricken with paralysis. She boarded an afternoon train, frantic with grief, to hasten to his bedside. Several hours after she had departed, the family here received the news of Dwyer's death.

Charles Dwyer was well known here, having practically been raised in Waco. The body will be brought here for burial, although funeral arrangements had not been made last night.

MRS. LAKE DIES IN CHICAGO

Remained to Learn of Death of Son Returned From Redlands.

M. H. Lane, secretary-treasurer of the Brans Valley Telephone and Telegraph Company, who has just returned from a visit to the bedside of his mother, Mrs. P. G. Lane in Chicago, and who left her convalescent, was shocked to learn a few moments after alighting from the train in Waco, that his mother had suddenly taken a turn for the worse and was dead.

Mr. Lane was almost prostrated with grief when the news of the death of his mother was told him. The body will be shipped to Waco, where burial will take place in Oakwood cemetery. Mrs. Lane was well known in Waco, where she had many friends.

BOY LONES HEAD

Lumberton, N. C., June 13.—While playing in the basement of the Dresden cotton mill near here, Charles Laughton, aged 10 years, threw the end of a rope which he had around his neck over a revolving shaft of the machinery. The rope wound around the shaft, jerking the head of the boy from his shoulders before help could reach him.

KILLS WIFE AND SELF; WOUNDS SON

Blackshear, Ga., June 13.—W. B. Mercer, aged 50, a well to do farmer living near Hoboken, this county, shot and killed his wife, seriously wounded his son and then killed himself last night. No cause for the tragedy is known.

STRIKERS BURN BUILDINGS IN RIOT

PERTH AMBOY (N. J.) MOB DRIVES OFF FIREMAN COMING TO FIGHT BLAZE.

Try to Set Third Building Aflame; Shoot Into Car Full of Passengers.

By The Associated Press.

Perth Amboy, N. J., June 13.—A mob of 2,000 men tonight attacked the plant of the American Smelting and Refining company, where a strike is on, threatening to burn the buildings.

They were repulsed by two volleys from rifles in the hands of police and detectives, but no one was injured.

Retiring to a small building used as a trolley car waiting room, they set fire to it. When a fire company responded to an alarm, its members were attacked and forced to retreat, leaving the building to burn. Two firemen were injured by stones. The police have asked Governor Wilson for militia.

At a late hour tonight a reign of terror existed in the neighborhood of the American Smelting company's property. Hotel people were fearful that the mob would apply the torch to their buildings. A trolley car containing no passengers was attacked, a second building owned by the trolley company was burned and an attempt was made to set fire to a third structure, but armed men drove off the attacking rioters by shooting over their heads.

While the mob was burning the second trolley room a car containing a dozen passengers approached. Some of the mob had revolvers and fired shots through the car windows, while others hurled stones. The mob put on full speed and the passengers threw themselves on the floor as the car flashed through the lines of rioters.

Chief Barron Is Made President; Friends Pleased

The many friends of Chief of Police Hollis Barron will be glad to learn that he was yesterday elected to the presidency of the Texas Chiefs of Police Association, which just concluded a rousing session in San Angelo.

The popular Waco chief has held down the position of vice president of the association for the past term, and his election to the highest office came as a just and deserved promotion. He will arrive home today. Chief Barron is popular here at home with all classes, and his election was no surprise to his friends, who know him and his ability to do well whatever he undertakes.

TRANSPORT STRIKE COLLAPSES

By The Associated Press.

London, June 13.—Evidence that the strike leaders realized that a national strike is a forlorn hope and are eager for a plausible pretext to make peace was afforded by the appointment today of an emergency committee "to be ready to interview the government should its service be required." At no place has the day brought accessions to the strikers' ranks. The Liverpool council of the transport workers decided to abide by the result of balloting taken by the firemen's union. Leith and other Scottish ports have voted heavily against the strike. Even at Southampton there are signs that the strike is collapsing.

SOCIAL STANDARDS FOR LABOR ARE ADVOCATED

By The Associated Press.

Cleveland, June 13.—The attendance upon the general session of the National Conference of Charities and Correction again was large tonight. Four speakers were heard, Owen R. Lovejoy, general secretary of the National Child Labor Commission, the first presenting as chairman, the report of the committee on standards of living and labor. Several standards for labor were advocated.

OLYMPIC ATHLETES ARE READY TO SAIL TODAY

By The Associated Press.

New York, June 13.—Up to midnight on the eve of the departure of the American Olympic team for Stockholm all but four of the 94 athletes selected as "regulars" had been checked up as ready to sail on the steamer Finland at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning. Twenty-four men on the supplementary list of athletes up to midnight tonight had announced they will sail.

GUARD SMOOTS CONVICT

By The Associated Press.

Frankfort, Ky., June 13.—P. M. Young, a guard in the state prison of the state, shot and killed Noah Taylor, a life prisoner when the latter attacked him today. Taylor struck Young from behind with a hammer and when the guard turned Taylor was lunging toward him with a shoe knife. The guard fired, killing Taylor instantly.

COLONEL ADMITS HE MAY GO TO CHICAGO

By The Associated Press.

Oyster Bay, June 13.—After talking for several hours tonight with Senator Dixon over the telephone wire, Col. Roosevelt said that he might go to Chicago. His final decision, however, still remains in abeyance.

Col. Roosevelt will go to New York in the morning. Whether he will leave for Chicago later in the day or return to Oyster Bay tomorrow night could not be learned tonight.

"I do not know what I shall do," said he. "It depends upon what I learn in the morning."

The colonel said that although he had been urged to give a definite answer tonight to the appeal from Chicago, he had merely replied that he wished to hear in full the reasons of those who urged him to go to the convention city before deciding what course of action on his part will be best. The impression prevailed tonight that the colonel was going.

Cool Day, Was It Not? Oh, Yes, Sir, It Sure Was—Not

Was it hot? Oh, No, it wasn't hot—it was just sizzlin', that's all.

A two-bit thermometer set out in the sun yesterday would have blown up in about two minutes. Old Zeke Tompkins, the oldest citizen at Hickory Corners, says it was the hottest day since June day since '78, by heck.

Dr. I. Block, volunteer weather observer, says his records don't go back that far, but that it certainly was the hottest June day since he's been on the job—about six years. Anyhow, Dr. Block's thermometer, which like all government heat recorders, is in the coolest spot in town, showed a mark of 104.

Even the coolest-blooded guy will admit that 104 is some hot for June.

Pilot Makes Good Time In Front of Boosters' Train

Leaving Waco Wednesday morning at 6:30, as the day unfolded bearing the Booster excursionists on their first 1912 trades trip left the Katy depot, Lawrence Hall of the Hall Cycle and Plating company, started on his record run astride a Flanders "4" motorcycle—the official pilot of the trades excursion. At most of the stops on the route when the Katy special drew into town they found Hall with his Flanders "4" awaiting them, and at no scheduled stop was he behind the train in arriving.

At Elgin, at the end of his run, he pulled up at the station with the train completing the trip he started to make and finishing with a remarkable record for a motorcycle, making the distance of 101 miles in 207 minutes, running time, and without having to make a repair or adjustment of any kind whatsoever. "Considering the roads I encountered, which were not built for a motorcycle by a long shot, I am exceedingly gratified over the results I got from the trip," said he. "The Flanders did the work and made a record run. I enjoyed the entire trip and believe great good will result from the excursion."

Millionaire Loses His Elephant; Goat Has Also Strayed

Special to The Morning News.

Pasadena, June 13.—John Vischer Eliot, prominent in Pasadena society and club circles, golf star, dog fancier and the city's millionaire police commissioner, has lost his elephant.

Mr. Eliot's elephant did not wander away, but was ruthlessly torn from its moorings by someone who imagines that the pachyderm was of more use to him than to its owner. The little pet did not wait in fear when its abduction was effected, but but gracefully went whither it was taken.

It develops that the elephant concerned was a bronze affair for which Mr. Eliot expended several dollars and employed as an ornament to his machine. He owned the elephant a scant two hours; in fact, it was the first public display of the novelty, and on his return from a visit to the police station the bronze figure was missing.

Local Temperatures

Furnished by Dr. I. Block, volunteer weather observer: "For 24 hours ending at 7 a. m. Thursday: Minimum 68, degrees; maximum, 104 degrees."

Government Prediction

Washington, June 13.—Forecast: East Texas—Generally fair; Friday, not quite so warm in north portion; Saturday fair. West Texas—Generally fair; Friday and Saturday.

WESLEY EDWARDS ARRESTED IN KENTUCKY

ONE OF LAST TWO HILLSVILLE ASSASSINS AT LARGE BELIEVED TAKEN.

Man Answering to Description of Wanted Member of Allen Band Captured.

By The Associated Press.

Lexington, Ky., June 13.—Wesley Edwards, a member of the Allen band which raided the court house at Hillsville, Va., on March 41 and who is charged with complicity in the assassination of the judge, the prosecutor, the sheriff of the county and killing and wounding of a number of others, was arrested this morning by Chief of Police A. B. Pieltitt of Clay City, 40 miles west of Lexington, if the belief of the authorities at that place is correct.

The man, who gave his name as Hathley and said he was from West Virginia, answers the description of the long-sought fugitive in every particular and Pieltitt is now awaiting an answer from the Virginia officers in regard to the prisoner.

Mr. Pieltitt received a letter Tuesday morning from Frank Wyatt, of Jackson, Kentucky, who knows both the Edwards and Allen, saying that Sidna Allen and Wesley Edwards were headed toward Clay City, and giving him a description of the men. Pieltitt took the tip and watched all trains and roads leading into the city. He arrested his prisoner as he was boarding a freight train to leave Clay City.

STATE OFFICIALS DOUBTFUL

Virginia Authorities Skeptical About Reported Capture.

Richmond, Va., June 13.—In the absence of more definite information, the state authorities tonight were unwilling to admit that Wesley Edwards had been captured, in view of similar reports heretofore which subsequently showed that the wrong man was under arrest. There is a standing reward of $1200 for his capture "dead or alive."

In the event the prisoner in Powell county, Ky., is really Edwards, only Sidna Allen remains in hiding. Floyd Allen, Sidna's brother, has been sentenced to die in the electric chair while his son, Claude Swanson Allen, was given a 10-year term in the state prison. Other members of the band are now in jail awaiting trial.

DARROW CHARGED WITH SUPPRESSING TESTIMONY

STATE ALLEGES WIFE OF TIMES DYNAMITE SUSPECT KEPT FROM STAND.

By The Associated Press.

Los Angeles, June 13.—The jury bringing charge on which Clarence S. Darrow is being tried, was almost completely lost sight of in today's session of the trial in the effort of the prosecution to show that Mrs. David Caplan was one of the McNamara witnesses whom Darrow had conspired corruptly to prevent from testifying, through Anton Johansson and Olaf Tviemot, labor leaders of San Francisco.

Miss Eulah Hitchcock, of the staff of Detective Samuel E. Browne of the district attorney's office, told him she took up the search for and found Mrs. Flora Caplan, wife of David Caplan, a Times dynamite suspect as yet uncaught, near La Honda, in the Santa Cruz mountains. There she served the latter with a subpoena to testify in the McNamara case.

The defense contended, however, in this connection that Mrs. Caplan as a wife of a co-defendant could not have been a witness in the McNamara case.

TWO LOSE LIVES IN FIRE; JUMP THREE STORIES

By The Associated Press.

Minneapolis, June 13.—Two persons lost their lives and six others were overcome by smoke here today when fire destroyed a flat building containing a loss of $10,000. The dead are August Swansen, a civil war veteran, aged 70, and Christian Swansen, his wife, 65, who jumped from a third-story window. Firemen of the state, attending the state firemen's convention, assisted the Minneapolis department, and their action is credited with saving several lives.

Chicago, June 13.—There is a story in everything," explained the night editor to a young woman reporter on the paper. "Look for the heart-throbbing features." The young woman found them; so did the night editor. They are to be married soon.

T. R. MEN DELIGHTED BY MISSOURI COMPROMISE

See In Splitting of Contested "Show Me" State Delegation Signs that the "Roller" Has Lost Its Steam.

FACTIONS TO FIGHT TODAY FOR TEXAS' FORTY VOTES

SCALE TURNS IN TEDDY'S FAVOR, GETS 12 VOTES

COMMITTEE AWARDS HIM 8 AND TAFT 6 IN MISSOURI CONTESTS.

T. R.'s Title to 4 in North Carolina Made Clear; Mississippi's 12 to President.

By The Associated Press.

Chicago, June 13.—Eight delegates for Col. Roosevelt and 18 for President Taft marked the day's gains for the two chief rivals for the republican presidential nomination from the decision of contested cases by the national committee. In addition the committee settled disputes between rival Roosevelt factions in two districts of North Carolina, thus clearing the colonel's title to votes from those sections.

It was a day of Roosevelt victories but victories achieved with the full acquiescence of the Taft majority on the committee. Missouri's contests, which threatened another battle between the Taft and Roosevelt factions in which the lines would be closely drawn, were compromised so effectively that the committee was unanimous in giving Roosevelt eight and Taft six of the contested delegates from that state.

T. R. 12, Taft 18.

The decisions today were: For Taft: Two each from the second, third, fourth, sixth, seventh and eighth Mississippi districts; two each from the third, seventh and fourteenth Missouri districts. Total 18.

For Roosevelt: Four delegates at large from Missouri; two each from the first and fifth Missouri districts; two each from the third and ninth North Carolina districts. Total 12.

At the end of a week of constant work over the contested delegations the committee has given President Taft a total of 159 delegates and Col. Roosevelt a total of 133.

In the Ninth North Carolina district the committee seated the McIntosh-Green delegation, but the contest did not involve presidential candidates as both delegations were in for Roosevelt. Before taking up this contest, the committee considered the third district contest and seated the two Roosevelt delegates—Marion and Butler and W. S. O. Robinson.

When adjournment was taken at 2:15 o'clock it was the belief that other compromises could be effected to dispose of some of the remaining contests without the formalities of arguments. In the Missouri cases as soon as Governor Hadley's Roosevelt delegation had been seated conferences were undertaken among the Missouri factions, which resulted in the dividing of the contested delegations between Roosevelt and Taft. Similar conferences are expected to result in the conclusion of several other state cases before the committee resumes work tomorrow.

Won't Affect Texas.

These compromises will not affect Texas or Washington, it is understood, but may take in several other states. The committee will settle another factional fight in North Carolina tomorrow and will then take up the third Oklahoma district.

The contests remaining involve two delegates from North Carolina, eight from Tennessee, thirty from Texas, twenty from Virginia, fourteen from Washington, two from Alaska, two from Oklahoma, two from South Carolina and two from the District of Columbia.

COWS CALL ON JUDGE

Special to The Morning News.

Portland, Maine, June 13.—At Westbrook three cows wandered down Main street, entered the Edmunds block, climbed a flight of stairs and visited the office of Municipal Judge Frank P. Pride of the municipal court. There they demolished a box of cigars and sent the furniture flying in all directions. Judge Pride threw a bottle of red ink at one of them, and the ink later led to a report that the animal was badly cut. The intruders then made their way to the telephone exchange, but were driven down the stairs by the frightened young women operators.

By The Associated Press.

Chicago, June 13.—The "Missouri compromise" decision and the quickly followed and entirely unexpected adjournment of the Republican national committee this afternoon brought about a situation full of uncertainty and conflicting rumors, which lasted throughout the evening and refused to crystallize into any definite form. Chief interest tonight centers around the contests from Texas, which are up to-morrow.

Explanations traversed a long and varied scale, all way from the statement that the compromise and sudden adjournment presaged a general setting together of the Taft and Roosevelt faction to naive the theory that it was to give the convention carpenters a chance to finish their sawing and hammering in the neighborhood of the committee room.

The explanation which best fits the various known facts is that the Taft supporters were glad to take advantage of three or four hours of time saved by the compromise on the Missouri cases to take account of stock and prepare for the struggle expected over the Texas and Washington contests.

National Committeeman Chas. Nogel of Missouri, Mr. Taft's secretary of commerce and labor, who left Chicago yesterday on the eve of the Missouri contest hearing, which he had been counted on to present, came in for considerable criticism when the committee action marked the first important concession of the fight to Roosevelt. Taft men on the committee, while mute for publication, said privately that Mr. Nogel's departure from Chicago had much to do with the argument in the Missouri cases.

Today absolutely no one appeared to challenge Governor Hadley's presentation of the case, and the Taft leaders said there was nothing for them to do but surrender.

Texas Contests Up.

The fight promises to center about contests involving the delegates from Texas. The contests preceding that on the calendar of the national committee are inconsequential compared with the Texas situation, where the political life of Cecil Lyon, national committeeman and the strength of the Roosevelt machine in the state is at stake.

The Roosevelt managers declared no compromise would be considered with regard to Texas. The Taft managers asserted they would fight for all of the contested Texas delegations on the ground that the Lyon organization has chosen its delegates in defiance of the district apportionment plan of the Republican national committee.

Deny Compromise Rumors.

Rumors of compromise and concession in the remaining contest fights were denied by the leaders on both sides. It is expected that the Virginia contests in which the Roosevelt forces charge that the Taft conventions were held, where negroes could not attend, will be presented as a single case, but Ormsby McHarg, the Roosevelt contest manager, asserted tonight the case would argue each of the Texas contests separately and that they expected to have at least 30 of the 40 delegates.

Both Claim Convention.

Both sides continued to claim ultimate control of the convention, and the Roosevelt forces definitely announced their intention to oppose on the floor the election of Senator Elihu Root as temporary chairman.

Elihu Root said his candidate for that place would be Senator Borah of Idaho.

"If such an honor was conferred upon me," Senator Borah said, "of course I could not refuse."

Rumors of a bolt in the party, so current for the last few days, were conspicuous today by their absence and this kind of talk was overshadowed by a continual discussion of a possible compromise in case the Taft-Roosevelt struggle should become too bitter and entangled.

Say Taft May Lay Down.

Referring to the "interrupted" passage of the steam roller" tonight, Senator Dixon said: "I know positively," said Mr. Dixon, "that two members of the national committee who have been voting with the 'steam roller', served notice last night that they would go no further in unseating Roosevelt delegates who had been regularly chosen. I know who they are, and could name them if I would. There are other members of the committee who cannot stand the strain much longer. Penrose and Crane fled to cover this afternoon to count on a change of plans."

The Roosevelt campaign manager concluded his statement with the flat declaration that the Roosevelt forces would control the temporary organization and nominate Roosevelt. The senator, however, admitted that the Roosevelt forces might not control the credentials committee, each member of which is elected by his state delegation.

"All the evidence in all the con-

TELLS OF LOANS TREASURY MADE TO STREET

CORTLEYOU DETAILS DEPOSIT-
ING $42,000,000 IN N. Y. BANKS
IN PANIC

Doesn't Recall Whether Money Was Put in Morgan's Vault or Not.

By The Associated Press

Washington, June 13.—Details of how the government deposited $42,000,000 in New York banks in 1907 to stem the panic was told the Pujio "money trust" investigation committee today by George B. Cortleyou, secretary of the treasury under President Roosevelt.

He promised the money at a meeting of financiers including J. P. Morgan, James Stillman, A. Barton Hepburn, George F. Baker, George W. Perkins and Frank A. Vanderlip, he testified. "I will not deposit a dollar except for the relief of the country, generally," he told them, he said.

Asked by Samuel Untermyer, counsel for the committee in which banks he had deposited the money, Mr. Cortleyou could not recall.

Morgan, Leader.
Mr. Cortleyou said he "understood" the money was used on the stock exchange, but did not know what the whole amount was.

"What interest did Mr. Morgan have in the deal? He was not a president of a bank?"
"No, but general opinion placed him as the leader at the moment and I suppose he represented some of his own interests," said Mr. Cortleyou.

"Do you know the banks under Mr. Morgan's guidance loaned the money on the stock exchange in proportion to the amounts they received from you that day?"
"I do not."

Mr. Cortleyou said he deposited altogether $12,000,000 in New York within three or four days, of which $10,000,000 went to relative trust companies.

"Did you know that there was an arrangement among these trust companies providing that Mr. Morgan should have the distribution of this money?" he asked.

Mr. Cortleyou said he thought the clearing house committee has this matter in charge but he conceded everybody looked to Mr. Morgan for guidance. He was unable to tell whether it was Morgan or government money that went to the trust company of America which recently was absorbed by the Equitable Trust Company, a so-called Morgan institution.

"Now, Mr. Cortleyou, where have you given in any published report to the senate or to the house or in any other published report, specific information as to amounts you put in these different banks during these five days of the panic?"
"Why do you limit me to be published? There are records of the treasury that are not published."

"Because that's what I want to know."

"My recollection is that much of the information you want is contained in my report to congress."

"That's no answer," said Mr. Untermyer.

Does Not Recall.
After Mr. Cortleyou had examined a copy of the report he said:

"Would it be considered an answer if I say that I do not recall?"

"That's what I want," responded Mr. Untermyer.

"Well, that's my answer," said the former secretary.

"Your answer sounds good," said Mr. Untermyer, with sarcasm.

"It sounds as good as your question," retorted the witness with heat.

Charles Steele, a partner of J. P. Morgan, followed Mr. Cortleyou on the stand and through his counsel, Francis Lynde Stetson, furnished the committee a list of the banks to which Morgan distributed his personal loan of $25,000,000 for loaning purposes on the stock exchange.

Mr. Untermyer found that the amounts respectively distributed to the banks were not noted on the list and asked for their production. Mr. Stetson said he would comply if the matter was "not confidential business." There were 14 banks on the list.

Mr. Steele testified that Morgan loan brokers were sent to the floor of the exchange to announce that money was available and to what banks the stock brokers could go to get it.

"Don't you know that the government money was loaned to each of these banks the same day?"

"I don't know as to that."

Received Deposits.
From the New York sub-treasury the attorney secured a statement showing that on the day (Oct. 24) on which Mr. Morgan told R. H. Thomas, president of the exchange, to announce the $25,000,000 loan to the exchange brokers, the government had deposited with the banks nearly $25,000,000. From Charles Steele, a partner of J. P. Morgan, he obtained a statement showing that 14 banks had "agreed to loan" to the stock exchange on that day.

The amount agreed to was $24,550,000, but the amount actually loaned according to the statement, was $18,945,000. All these banks the sub-treasury statement showed had previously received deposits of government money.

The list furnished by Mr. Steele included the First National, the National Bank, the Hanover National, the National Bank of Commerce and several others which Mr. Untermyer mentioned as having Morgan affiliations. The attorney read into the record from the two lists comparisons, showing that on Oct. 24th the First National had received $9,250,000 in government deposits, had "agreed to loan" on the stock exchange $4,000,000 and had actually loaned $2,580,000. He made similar comparisons for other banks.

THE REASON WHY PROM- INENT MEN ENDORSE

Jake Zurn, a Prominent Railroad Man of Northern Texas, Freely Endorses a Remedy for Sufferers From Malaria and Stomach Troubles.

It is often a source of wonder that prominent people will lend their names to the endorsement of various remedies.

A little cool thought will demonstrate to any one that these testimonials are given solely with a view of relieving suffering humanity, and to guide people to a remedy that they know from actual experience possesses absolutely curative qualities for certain diseases.

Probably no man in Texas is better known than Jake Zurn, D. P. & T. A. of the I. & G. N., and T. & P. railroads in Fort Worth. Mr. Zurn's standing in the community in which he lives, and his connection with large railroads and other business interests, as well as his prominence in fraternal orders gives weight to any voluntary public endorsement by him, through which relief might be sought by any of his many friends.

The following testimonial of "Plant Juice" is given by Mr. Zurn in the hope that some of his friends who have suffered with stomach and malaria troubles may be cured, as was he.

"As a tonic and remedial agent for stomach disorder and as a cathartic, it gives me pleasure to very highly praise your 'Plant Juice.' I have personally tested it and am sure it is an article of great merit. It has proven of great physical benefit to me."

Probably no remedy has even been introduced in Texas that has brought so many voluntary testimonials from prominent citizens as his "Plant Juice." "Any one suffering from malaria or stomach troubles is invited to call at the drug store and have a talk with the demonstrator, who is in charge of the sale of this famous remedy, who will cite them to hundreds of cases in which almost miraculous relief has been obtained. Call at Old Corner Drug Store and try a bottle of "Plant Juice."

REAL ESTATE DEAL
INVOLVES $37,500

A real estate transaction of considerable importance was made in this city yesterday, when George N. Morse and Company sold the J. W. Higgins property on Austin street, between Ninth and Tenth, street to W. S. Duke, Jr. F. E. McElroy and W. H. McCullough. The consideration was given as $37,500.

The property fronts 130 feet on Austin street, with a depth of 165 feet. This property is considered among the most desirable in that section, which is beginning to be encroached upon by business concerns.

The business era, as well as the residential section of Waco is growing at a magnificent rate, and property values have increased wonderfully within the past few years.

SPRAINED ANKLE
WORTH $750.00

A jury in the Nineteenth district court yesterday fixed the price of a sprained ankle at $750, in the personal damage suit case of J. E. A. Snead, who was suing the Cotton Belt railroad for $10,000 for alleged injuries received when he received a sprained ankle as he stepped from a train at Mount Pleasant recently. The case was bitterly contested on both sides, and proved of considerable interest.

ATTACKS TRAVELING COST
ITEM FOR THE PRESIDENT

By The Associated Press.

Washington, June 13.—Representative Fitzgerald in a speech today attacked the provision in the legislative, executive and judicial bill providing for the traveling expenses of the president.

Mr. Fitzgerald declared, however, that he would vote for the item, which eventually was adopted 78 to 55. He said facetiously that he believed it "would pay the democratic party and the country if the president traveled the year round."

They tell the Waco Printing Company that it is impracticable to do a cash-printing business in Waco. Huh! Well, we don't believe it. 16

SEES A PLOT TO GET WOOD IN ARMY BILL

SENATOR HANNA STARTED IN-TRIGUE TO KEEP OFFICER DOWN IN ALLEGED.

Bitter Assaults Made Upon Provision
Abolishing Post of Chief of Staff.

By The Associated Press

Washington, June 13.—Startling charges of intrigue against Major General Leonard Wood, chief of staff of the army, begun by the late Senator Marcus A. Hanna, were only part of a series of sensational attacks which attended the adoption by the house today of the army appropriation bill conference report.

Allusions to Maj. General Charles F. Humphreys as "the agent for the powder trust," and to Senator Duffell's former connection with the powder business, furnished other incidents.

Nevertheless the house adopted the report which had been approved by its conferees, and accepted by the senate and if President Taft signs the bill, as it is said he will, Gen. Wood will be removed from his office March 4, 1913, and the reorganization of the army posts, which the war department has characterized as useless will be left to a commission.

Brings In Hanna's Name.
Representative Prince began the fight against the report by characterizing it "as an insult to the army, the house and the country," and in the debate which followed Representative Cooper brought in the name of Senator Hanna.

"In all my public career," Cooper said, "I know of no officer who has been so generally misrepresented as General Wood. I was told on the very best authority that when General Wood was in charge of affairs in Cuba a certain senator asked him what he proposed to do about Major Rathbone, director of posts of Cuba, then involved in the postal frauds."

"Senator," responded Wood, "I propose to prosecute him."

"Do that, Wood," replied the Senator, "and I will see to it that you never rise higher than captain in the service."

"Since that time," continued Mr. Cooper, "that senator and his powerful friends have hounded him."

The interchanges which followed brought in the name of Senator Hanna.

Takes Shot at Warren.
Representative Martin of Colorado, made reference to Brigadier General Pershing and his rapid rise in the army. The general is a son-in-law of Senator Warren of Wyoming, chairman of the senate appropriations committee, former chairman of the senate military affairs committee and one of the conferees on the bill.

"Men in the army who are sons-in-law of legislators and who have been allowed to jump 700 numbers over the heads of other officers to a brigadier generalship," shouted Mr. Martin, "would have a better chance of promotion if a man of General Wood's type were disqualified."

LEVEE COMMISSION
HEARS ARGUMENTS

By The Associated Press.

St. Louis, June 13.—Mississippi commission heard arguments today as to what the levee district from northern Missouri to New Orleans needs to repair damage by floods this year and to prevent the repetition of the devastations. The commission has $1,500,000 to spend on the work and hopes for $2,500,000 more from congress.

No decisions were rendered today.

ACQUITTED OF CHARGE OF TOWING A PISTOL

Dr. D. S. Ashby, who is alleged to have created a disturbance at a local wagon yard, when his wife acceded to the request of a young man to play a graphophone for the entertainment of the wagon yard guests, was acquitted yesterday in the county court on a charge of carrying a pistol. Dr. Ashby had previously paid a fine in police court for fighting.

AD CLUB MAY BRING ELBERT HUBBARD HERE

NOTED LECTURER AND ESSAYIST WILL BE ASKED TO MAKE TALK IN WACO.

Elbert Hubbard, one of the greatest essayists and lecturers of the times, will be heard in a lecture in Waco next fall if plans discussed last night at a meeting of the board of directors of the Waco Ad club are brought to fruition. The club appointed a committee composed of C. H. Tupper, chairman; C. B. Harmon, S. R. Willis and A. C. Patton to arrange for Mr. Hubbard's date here under the auspices of the organization.

Plans were perfected for the round table discussions at the weekly luncheons at 6:30 each Tuesday. Next Tuesday the three established Waco papers will be "picked to pieces," so to speak, the advertisements discussed suggestions made for improvements in them and a general discussion of such ads as are shown will be had. The Saturday issue of the Tribune and the Sunday issues of the News and the Times-Herald will be under the knife.

On the week following foreign papers will be taken up, and so, from week to week, different angles of practical advertising will be worked.

Last night's meeting, which was held in the store of A. C. Patton, heard many letters read from different ad delegations who were entertained last month. Every one of these was enthusiastic over the treatment accorded them here, and not a few singled this city as the liveliest proposition of its size yet seen.

President Lazenby of the Artesian bottling company came in for a liberal share of praise for his part in the entertainment. Those present were J. S. Lambert, T. H. Jackson, C. B. Harmon, George C. Stubblefield, A. C. Patton, S. R. Willis, C. H. Tupper, W. V. Crawford, Dr. W. B. Georgia and W. J. Mitchell.

HORSE AND CAB IN SEINE.

Special to The Morning News.

Paris, June 13.—Mystery surrounds the finding of a cab and a drowned horse in the Seine at Leval-lous-Perret. A woman on a barge saw something like a dead animal and a carriage in the water, and called the attention of the police to her discovery. The animal, when raised to the surface, turned out to be a horse hitched to a cab of the Compagnie Urbaine. Both were fished out of the river. The question then was as to what had become of the cabman.

Inquiry at the offices of the company showed that the cab had been confided to a man named Debeault and he has not since been heard of. He was last seen driving near Leval-lous-Perret about 11 o'clock at night. There is a low embankment near the spot where the cab and horse were found, but in order to fall into the river the cab had to get over a parapet made of logs and timber, about 18 inches high.

Special to The Morning News.

Boston, June 13.—Edmund D. Dickey, the infant son of Thomas Dickey of North Cambridge, met death through the explosion of some detonating caps with which he was playing.

a tin can. He rattled them so forcibly that one of them exploded and set off all the others.

TAKING NO CHANCES.
Here's one vouched for by Manager Derr, of the Federal hotel. "A friend of mine," says the voracious chronicler, "went into the office of a dentist the other day to have several teeth extracted."

"I suppose I ought to take something to deaden the pain, but I'm afraid of this gas you use," said the prospective patient.

"The dentist reassured him and wound up with, 'You'll only be unconscious for two or three minutes at most.' The patient took out his pocketbook.

"Never mind that now," said the dentist 'you can pay me when I've finished.'

"I wasn't going to pay you!" exclaimed the patient. "I was going to count my money."—Kansas City Journal.

WACO MERCHANTS DONATE FLAG POLE FOR PARK

When it was known that the desire had come for a handsome flag for the city's pleasure ground, Cameron Park, S. F. Carothers of the William Cameron Lumber Company, began to make this possible. He planned the handsome pole which is ready to receive the flag this afternoon. At once the Brasco Telephone Company donated two poles which the Waco Sash and Door Company prepared. The Cameron plant department colored the wood, Tybitt and Germond made and donated the golden crown, McLendon Hardware Company responded, and the Cameron retail yard prepared the bed. The Waco Gas Company also responded. It is true that the gift is comparatively small, but the good will towards the park from all who were approached is something remarkable and promises much for the common interest of the citizens in this city pleasure place.

Invitations are being issued at the Elks Club next Thursday. In this Matinee George Tod and William Carroll entertain in compliance to Miss Harwood of Tennessee and Miss Rowena Sturgis who is just home from school in Virginia. This will assemble a large card circle.

MISSION SOCIETY HOLDS

SPECIAL MEETING TODAY
As president of the Austin Avenue Mission Society, Mrs. J. R. Milam announces that Mrs. Bloodworth, corresponding secretary of the Home department in this conference, will address the society at 4 o'clock this afternoon. An invitation, especially to the society members, is extended.

MRS. GEORGE MCLENDON

GIVES SECOND LUNCHEON
In entertaining for the second of her beautiful luncheons, Mrs. Geo. McLendon repeated in detail the compliment of the day previous to Mesdames L. C. Alexander, Charles Hamilton, J. W. Hale, J. W. Bass, E. F. Carroll, O. H. Cross, Norman Shumate, Ralph McLendon, Misses Esther Gross, Mattie Jones.

MR. AND MRS. A. R. ROBERTS

ENJOYING THE WILDORE
Yesterday found Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Roberts arriving in New York City. They are registered at the famous Waldorf-Astoria, hence enjoying all that world famed New York hotel life can afford. They will remain some time. Mr. Roberts' former residence in New York City will occasion social attention as well as sight seeing.

MRS. McCULLOUGH'S CLASS

GIVES RECITAL TONIGHT
Friends other than the parents of her pupils have been remembered by Mrs. C. C. McCulloch for her closing class recital this evening. The program promises something well worth while in the masters whose compositions will be rendered. These are no less ambitious than Liszt, Wienowski, Schubert, Tausig and others. Those who present these are: Misses Wilma Shattler, Catherine Garland, Jessie Jackson, Verda McAlain, Daisy King, Ruby McAlain, Loreen Hamilton, May Sparks.

MRS. FITZWILLIAMS, CHICAGO,

ON RETURN TO VISIT CITY
There arrived on Thursday to visit Mrs. J. W. Bass for a few days, Mrs. Fitzwilliams of Chicago. This is a return visit of this charming, cultured woman, who complimented the people of this city with her own lecture and pictures in the free library course two seasons gone by. Mrs. Fitzwilliams is upon the eve of sailing for a two years' sojourn in Europe. It is the present expectation of Mrs. Bass to invite a few friends to share a morning with her guest.

DOMESTIC SCIENCE HAS

PICNIC AT CAMERON PARK
An innovation was made into the usual entertainment for the Domestic Science Club. This found Mrs. Brooks Pearson hostess, who invited the club and included the husbands to have supper with her out at Cameron Park. Two special guests were Miss Watt of Arkansas, who is with Mrs. Beauford McWhirter, and Miss Alice Higginbotham of Dublin, who is with her sister, Mrs. E. R. Nash, Jr. It is all a dead secret as to what transpired further than the most enjoyed supper, so suspicion points somewhere about the chutes and the merry go round. The Domestic Science will meet but once or twice before summer adjournment. The hostess for the coming week is not yet named.

REUNION OF MADCAPS HELD

WITH MISS GRACE COX
Quite a number of years ago there was formed in this city a little neighborhood club of girls who took the name Mad Caps. These girls have grown to young women and are now just arriving at home from their several colleges and universities. Miss Grace Cox was the first to call a reunion which was done for Thursday afternoon. Added to the club were a very few to take extra hands. A dainty fan and a picture frame were provided as the game favors for bridge. The Mad Caps are beginning their course of bridge and this promises to be the summer pastime for morning hours. The reunion served well its purpose. Four were absent, Misses Westbrook and Patton in Europe, Miss Lella May Henry in Washington City, and Miss Leta Roberts who is at home on her ranch. Those who gathered into this pleasant morning circle by Miss Cox were: Misses May Lee Castfield, Anne Risher, Susie Edmond, Nannette Howells, Mary Shelton, Frances Boddie, Beuna Clinton, Mazie Turner, Ermine Halbert, Vashlie Hubby, Katherine Spencer, Mildred Fort, Fay Clinton, Lalla Fay Lacy, Lucile Mayfield, Pauline McLendon, Katherine Lewis, Dorothy Finley, Edwina Sturgis, Mary Lu Bagby.

MRS. HERMANN HAGERDON

COMPLIMENTS MISS DUNN
In recognition of her last days of girlhood, Miss Dunn is passing from friend to friend in a very pleasing way. She is to be the bride of Jas. Franklin of Port Worth. The last courtesy found Mrs. Hermann Hagerdon hostess in a beautiful shower of miscellaneous fancy pieces. Mrs. Hagerdon has an attractive new home on North Fifth, and this made more attractive by her floral treatment for this occasion. Those who were privileged to contribute to the shower seemed to take genuine pleasure in making the bits of beauty or in selecting the articles for use, to go into the huge suit case, with which the shower was made. First, in the afternoon dinner found the hostess handing bride neckerchiefs. On these, the guests wrote clever recipes upon how to hold a husband and make a happy home. This done, and the re-array amid merriment, a sheet of paper was given, surmounted with the names of the bride and the groom of next Thursday. Out of this each, in a given time, was to coin as many words as possible using only the letters in the names. The award was the privilege of carrying and presenting the suit case. Miss Schlie Fitzpatrick was the winner. The pieces admired there was passage to the dining room, a true lav: rose bower, where toasts were given. Miss Birdie O'Connell spoke for the bride, Mrs. J. B. Logan for the home left, Miss Halie Jameson for the girls left, Mrs. Boone Crow for the mother, and Mrs. Madden for the groom. Sandwiches and punch was the refreshment course. This was in all beautiful compliment from a gracious hostess to a popular young honoree.

NATIONAL FLAG DAY COMES; WHAT DOES IT MEAN?

Today we arrive at the date set apart by our nation to honor the Stars and the Stripes. This carries a much deeper meaning to those who have been under the flags of other nations than it does to those who have never seen a flag but the wave of Old Glory whenever an American sails the seas and spies the tri-color a throb of patriotism wells. Or, should she chance across an embassy or a mission and there see the stars and the stripes she involuntarily pays homage. It is not the flag itself. It is the liberty loving people who made it. America is free to extol that liberty and this fact is but its symbol. The thirteen stripes are the thirteen colonies who waged such brave struggle in order that this liberty should come to the new born nation. And their bravery won that which we now enjoy. The red is the badge of that courage. The blue is the truth to principle for which our forefathers fought. The white is the purity which our flag maintains. It is now an era of peace. The flag is not needed for defense. The courage in battle and the truth of the cause, is not proclaimed. But the purity of our principles of government are ever suggested by the white in this flag. The growth of our country is in the stars, a new one for every state admitted to this great union. So honored are these colors that it is told of the first military use in the flag was when the Indians besieged Fort Schuyler. There was no American flag. The company was to march; it must march under its colors. At once, a patriotic woman tore a piece from her red flannel petticoat, the colonel a piece from his shirt, and another commander a bit of the blue from his military coat. This the flag was defended under the flag. The nation now desires us to honor our flag, not for the war which it may defend but for its principles of courage to do the right, truth to principles, and purity of motive and action. This applied to our government, is the banner of civic righteousness. So, today the government asks us to honor our nation, one of the greatest of the world, and our city asks that we lay down the business and home pressure and show patriotism by attending the flag exercises at Cameron Park. The hour is 5 o'clock. The exercises will be very interesting. It is hoped that all will remain for a supper in the park. And, it is hoped that the throb of patriotism will inspire every single soul to appear with a flag.

PRETTY COMPLIMENT FOR

MISS MILDRED ADAMS
Appreciating the fact that both the bride and the groom-to-be were connected with the time honored Moore family, of which she is the proud daughter, Mrs. T. D. Hays gathered into her home on Wednesday afternoon all the younger members of the family connection. This means that twenty or more young cousins were present to do honor to Miss Mildred Adams, who in a few days is to be the bride of yet another cousin, Frank Frazier Morgan. It was a gathering noteworthy beyond its immediate cause for being. There were the descendants of one of the pioneer families of this city, handsome, bright and cultured women, all worthy descendants of one of the noblest couples who are now recorded as makers of this city's culture. Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Moore. This was altogether a social hour with a shower for the dainty little bride to be who received her compliment very charmingly. After the assembling there came whirling into the parlor an automobile, with tiny Elizabeth Burrows driver. The groom had sent a parcel and under this the shower gathered. Two other little cousins, Dorothy Ansell of Morgan and June Dodd Moore accompanied as delivery girls. The packages were heaped around, and such an array after these were opened. The automobile was steered to the bay window where Miss Adams sat in a bride bedecked chair. Miss Celia Moore and Mrs. J. W. Bondurant of Tyler, took station and read aloud the very clever verses which accompanied the packages. These verses were both witty and wise, and entertained for an hour. All then crowded around to admire the beautiful gifts. In the meantime the refreshment room was opened, a daisy bower, so appropriate as John Ruskin says, to the young girl. The buffet was bordered by the center bunch, and they appeared in many other ways. The punch cups were filled, and then Mrs. Joseph Moss of Hico, rose to introduce the order of toasts. She prefaced each with her own bit of sentiment or facetiousness. The assignments had been, for the bride and the groom, Mrs. J. W. Ansell of Morgan. To this, Miss Adams responded. Mrs. Charles Ivy spoke for those who have been brides and grooms. Mrs. J. W. Grand spoke. Mrs. William Early referred to the girls left behind who were defended by Miss Celia Moore. Last, there was the toast to the mother-in-law by Miss Rut Evans who was followed by Miss Kate Friend. In this notable gathering there were four generations, Mrs. Johnson, mother of Mrs. Luke Moore being the great grandmother of Mrs. William Early. Mrs. Hays had planned her courtesy pretty and it was carried to a happy consummation for both honoree and guests.

MR. AND MRS. CLARK HAVE

COMPLIMENTARY AT-HOME
It was a comment upon the rapid growth of the city to say that, in issuing their invitations, Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Clark included more than eight hundred guests. This represented the social element of the city, married and single, who gathered in response to the desire of Mrs. Clark to pay courtesy to the coming marriage of Miss Marjorie Brown, the recent marriage of Mrs. W. S. Wolfe and the first return as a young lady to the old home of Miss Courtney Chatham, now of San Antonio. The arrangement was so adroitly made that informality prevailed amid the conduct of form. There was Millett's orchestra to give a balcony concert, the couchman at curbing to give attention to arriving guests, the butler at the punch bowl with maids, and other provision everywhere for the social side of this large company. One of the most responsive features came from the men. These had been included in the receiving party by Mrs. Clark, and there was a generous claiming of privilege. This was an innovation, and it was much appreciated by both the men and the women. Mrs. Clark with her three honorees were the only ones in station, the other of her hostesses being here, there and everywhere. The bending willows over the punch table, the rustic room in the garden among the rose beds, the smoothly clipped lawn, it all went to give the real garden effect. The hours were named as from 5 to 8, but it was near the stroke of nine before the young ladies who made the last group dispersed. Mrs. Clark's refreshment service was punch and sandwiches in never failing supply. There was an unusual degree of sociability everywhere. Mrs. Witte, with Misses Brown and Chatham received their courtesy with evident pleasure. Indeed, there was not one detail in Mr. and Mrs. Clark's hospitality which did not tend towards one of the notable gatherings of the summer season. Those requested to remain throughout the receiving hours were:
Mesdames James Horne, Coke Horne, Lloyd Tuttle, James Baker, John Baker, M. D. Baker, W. L. Geer, J. P. McGreor, Herman Horne, Elmer Brown, Nathan Batten, Florence Van Duzer, E. ## VIC MILLER IN FINE FORM; NAVS WIN

PIRATES BOOT BALL, WHILE WACO MIXES IN BITS IN TIMELY PLACES.

Broncs Beat Giants Again, While Houston Takes Another From Panthers.

By The Associated Press.
Galveston, June 13.—Blowing up in the second inning and booting the ball around the lot, the Pirates got away with a lead of four runs this afternoon, enough to put the game on ice for the visitors. Miller, who went the route for Waco, was invincible, allowing but four hits. The locals' one run was made in the sixth when Jim Williams doubled and was driven in by Salm's long single to left. Tate, Maloney's new pitcher, was in fairly good form, but was given poor support.

By The Associated Press.

Houston, Tex., June 13.—Houston won its ninth consecutive victory today, Rose shutting out Fort Worth with three hits. With two on bases in the fifth, Britton's triple cleaned up and Allen's squeeze scored the run that drove Perritt off the rubber for the second time in three days. He was relieved by Maple, who fared little better.

PRINCETON DEFEATS YALE BY HEAVY SCORE

NINETEEN TO SIX IS SCORE; GOOD BATTING WINS GAME; ELL PITCHES POOR.

By The Associated Press.

New York, June 13.—With a score of 19 to 6, Princeton defeated Yale today and won the baseball series of 1912. Ten thousand partisans, about equally divided, crowded the stand and bleachers to encourage their respective teams.

Princeton won by good batting. Yale was painfully weak in her pitchers, calling upon five twirlers, none of whom was effective. The Blues opened with two runs in the first inning, but when the second session, had been played and the Orange and Black got through pounding Hartwell, the score stood 9 to 2 in favor of the Tigers. Yale made desperate efforts to retrieve, but her batmen could not solve Lear's delivery. Four more runs was the best they could gather in the next seven innings, while Princeton added ten to its lead.

Score..... R. H. E.
Yale..... 201 120 000—6 9 3
Princeton..... 182 111 411—19 18 5

HIT THE BALL OVER THE FENCE AND WIN MEAL TICKET

It still holds good, says Mr. Criss, manager of Criss Cafe on Austin street; hit the ball over the fence and call and get your meal ticket good for the season. This, however, is good only for the home team. Some one or two have been fortunate enough to secure their tickets by landing on the pill, hitting it for a home run. The management of the cafe is as good a fan as he is a restaurant man and makes this offer to show the boys he is right. Keep your eye on the ball, hit hard and when you have made a home run and call and secure your ticket, at the Cafe of good things to eat.

BUSINESS MEN'S CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

SECRETARY'S REPORT SHOWS WACO TO HAVE MADE GIANT STRIDES IN YEAR.

Over $200,000 in cash bonuses was raised by the business organizations of Waco during the year just closed; several manufacturing plants were secured; the Katy shops and terminals brought here as well as the Dallas interurban and mammoth power house, the government work on the river, and many other industries, to say nothing of civic advertising that has made the city familiar over the United States as a live wire.

These facts, probably realized fully by few citizens of Waco, were brought out at the annual meeting of the Business Men's Club last night in the report of Secretary E. F. Drake. The report showed such great accomplishment that the old officers were elected enthusiastically and President Marshall and Secretary Drake were given rising votes of thanks by the meeting.

Old Officers Re-elected.

The officers elected were: E. W. Marshall, president; R. T. Dennis, first vice-president; J. J. Powers, second vice-president; L. Megill, treasurer; directors, E. W. Marshall, chairman; R. T. Dennis, J. J. Powers, L. Megill, J. R. Milam, T. P. Duncan, W. T. Herrick, C. L. Sanger, R. T. Gribble, J. Lee Davis, F. E. McLarty, F. L. Miller, Peyton Randle.

Secretary Drake's report was as follows:

"The closing of the fiscal year of 1911 looks back upon one of the busiest years that the Business Men's Club has had since its organization. Some of the largest projects ever put before us have been brought to a successful consummation and brought to us a stability such as has not come to us before in years. There are so many things that are done by a Business Men's Club that cannot be enumerated in a report such as this, and yet are necessary, so it will only be the purpose of this report to call your attention to the additions to the city through the efforts of this organization.

Many Industries.

"Since our last report the establishment of the Rush-Park Seed Company has been accomplished and we are glad to say that they are doing a thriving business. In locating the Progress Laundry we not only secured an addition which is a benefit to the city but also secured a new building, put up for them by the Big Four Ice & Cold Storage Company which in itself was a great improvement.

"The Waco Vulcanizing Company came from Illinois and, while not as large as some of the plants we have secured, adds to the list nevertheless.

"A proposition was put before us for a bonus of $2500 for the location of the Longley Manufacturing Company. With the able assistance of the Young Men's Business League this bonus was raised. Today we have a thriving concern on Fourth street opposite S had claimed relationship with the complainant, to the great damage of his feelings and reputation.

The "trial" grew out of an address delivered by Dr. Scott before the same organization some weeks ago, in which he declared himself strongly in favor of the evolution theory. The prominence of the speaker, both in educational circles and in church work in the First Presbyterian church here, caused his utterances to raise a storm of discussion, and several local artists made his address the text of anti-evolution sermons.

COTTON LESS ACTIVE, FLUCTUATES TRIFLE

MARKET OPENS STEADY AT DECLINE ON SLIGHTLY DISAPPOINTING CABLES.

By The Associated Press.

New York, June 13.—Cotton was less active today and fluctuated within a range of 6 1/2 points, with the close steady net unchanged to 2 points net lower. The market opened steady at a decline of 1 1/2 points on slightly disappointing cables and generally favorable early weather reports.

The opening decline reflected considerable liquidation by recent buyers, while there also was local selling on the favorable view of the crop conditions. Offerings were well absorbed around the opening by continued support from spot interests and the market soon stiffened up to a point over the lowest.

Receipts, 2,181, against 6,811 last week and 1,485 last year. Today's receipts at Galveston, 717 against 127 last year; at New Orleans, 178 against 956 last year, and at Houston 192 against 99 last year.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON DOWN.

By The Associated Press.

New Orleans, June 13.—The cotton futures market opened steady, unchanged to 2 points off compared with yesterday's close. At the end of the first half-hour of business they were unchanged to 1 point up compared with the same level on the most active months.

Around the middle of the morning offerings from realizing longs increased and the market sagged under them. At noon the trading months were six to eight points under yesterday's last prices. The market steadied in the afternoon on fresh buying by longs. At 2 o'clock prices were 1 to 2 points under yesterday's close. Futures closed at a decline of 2 points.

NEW WHEAT COUNTS AGAINST PIT PRICES

SPREADING OF HARVEST WORK FROM OKLAHOMA ENCOURAGES BEARS.

By The Associated Press.

Chicago, June 13.—Initial movement of new wheat from Oklahoma and the spreading of harvest work to Missouri, counted here today against the prices in the pit. The market closed unsettled, 1/4 @ 1 1/4 under last night. Corn made an advance of 1/4 @ 1/4 to 1/4 @ 1/4, and oats finished 1/4 @ 1/4 off. Latest trading left provisions varying from 5 decline to a rise of 2 1/2.

Speculations on the bear side of wheat availed themselves quickly of news that St. Louis millers had carloads of this season's crop on the way from Oklahoma. Vigorous pounding gave fresh impetus to a down turn, due largely to rains that were said to be excellent for filling wheat in Kansas and for bringing on an abundant yield in the spring sown fields northwest.

The absence of corn seemed the consequence largely of a falling off in receipts from the country. Receivers, however, were not unanimous in such forecasts. Cash grades were in a little better demand.

Purchasers turned from July oats today to the September option. It was argued that should anything happen to cut down the present crop prospects, the deferred delivery could easily sell at 50c.

Smaller western packers took the selling end in the provision market. Most of the pressure was on lard. Pork and bacon held within 2 1/2 c of the level established 24 hours before.

The close follows:

Wheat—July 1.08 1/2, Oct. 1.05 1/2 @ 1/4, Dec. 1.06.

Corn—July 74 1/2 c, Sept. 72 1/2 @ 73 c, Dec. 64 1/2 c.

Oats—July 50 1/2 @ 1/2 c, Sept. 41 1/2 c, Dec. 42 c.

Pork—July 18.87 1/2, Sept. 19.27 1/2, Oct. 11.25.

Short Ribs—July 10.57 1/2, Sept. 10.72 1/2.

Editorial Page of Waco Morning News

A half a century ago a boy would walk a dozen miles to have the privilege of reading a book, for in those days only the fortunate few were possessors of libraries. The ordinary house had very little beyond the family Bible, with its record of marriages, births, deaths. May be there was a copy here and there of "Pilgrim's Progress," the almanac which hung by the fireside and was treasured, by which every important act of the family, from weaning the youngest born to planting corn was settled. Once in a while some family had a book or two of romance, but magazines were almost unknown to the average reader, and books were few and far between. They were real, genuine luxuries. Nowadays, just around the corner in a magnificent building of attractive architecture, with beautiful surroundings, are hundreds of books on science, history, religion, art, mechanics, fiction, and every other subject that suggests itself to the human mind, free of access to every one in the city. This is true of most cities and many smaller towns, for the effort of interested people and the generosity of well-known American citizens, libraries have been erected everywhere throughout the United States where there is a strong enough demand. But why do we not use them more than we do? According to the eager desire for learning and for information that existed fifty or more years ago, today we ought to be using our Carnegie and our private libraries constantly. They should be so crowded that one would have to wait his time, as they do in the popular picture shows in many of the cities today. But do they? No, and the worthy men and women who compose the library boards have to scheme and plan to devise ways and means to get the youth of our country, and the older people also, to visit the libraries and enjoy the privileges of these free, worthy institutions, with the wealth of literature filling its sections. The boards are greatly pleased when the secretaries' reports show a slight increase in attendance. And, in the meantime, where are our boys, who, had they lived a few years back, would have gone, footsore and weary, any distance for a single book? One who observes will find them in places of cheap amusement, or loitering on the street corners, around drug stores, and other places, smoking, talking, seemingly aimless and purposeless, wasting their leisure all the time. A little idle time may be necessary to preserve the equilibrium of their hard-worked bodies, but it seems reasonable to suggest to these young men and boys that time today is even more valuable than it was in any period of the world's history that is past, and that a few nights out of each week could be profitably spent at a library. And it will prove a great pleasure, as well as profit, when once the habit of reading is formed, to say nothing of the wonderfully elevating influence of good literature upon the mind, which is the motor that controls and guides the destinies of men and women. If one can not spend the time away from home, the books can be taken to your home, and the other members of the family can enjoy their contents with you. Isn't it much better to spend part of your time in reading good books, instead of loafing night after night, wasting valuable time, for time is the most precious thing in this world. It can be spent, but not a single minute of it is ever recovered, and he who uses his time sanely and well, storing his mind with valuable and useful information will be the one who does the most good in this world, reaps the most rewards and enjoys the greatest happiness. Everyone should cultivate a love for good books, and spend a portion of each day reading the thoughts of great men and great women, getting information and inspiration to fit them for a higher and a nobler life.

It is pathetic and heart-rending when one has to watch the roaring flames burn to death a little child, whose agonized cries pierce the air, calling in vain for help. This is the story of a fire in Dallas, where a three-year-old babe went upstairs in a two-story house, and, finding matches accessible, set fire to the house in some way, cutting himself off from escape, and while firemen and frantic neighbors tried in vain to reach him, he was roasted alive in the roaring flames. We can not understand why such things happen, and it is natural for us to rebel against them, yet we can not believe that the great Divine Head of all things permits wanton destruction without some purpose. There is hidden in the dim future some effect growing out of this terrible accident that will benefit the world more than it was injured. It will be many days before the heart-broken mother will forget the agonized cries of her child, and many months, perhaps years, or even unto the end of time, before she will cease to long for the warm, loving kisses or her little son, and in her dreams she will feel his dimpled arms clasped tightly about her neck, and can feel the throbbing of his infant heart, so sweet, so pure, so innocent. Perhaps had he lived he would have become a great disappointment to her, and it is better to remember him as a guileless, happy, little child, than to live to know him as a man steeped in sin and shame. If we endeavor to reason out the plans of God, and the reason for the many awful tragedies of life, we will grow skeptical and doubt the love of God for mankind, so the best way is to take a broad view of it and say that we are human, therefore can only know in part, and therefore the things that seem to us to be calamities are really blessings in disguise, and some day when this mortal shall have put on immortality we will be able to see behind the veil and understand something of the plans and purposes of Him who guides the destinies of the human race toward a higher plane.

When the dandelions die, and the golden flowers become beautiful balls of filmy down, they are blown about by every floating breeze, hither and yonder, finally seeking lodgment somewhere, and the tiny seeds hidden in these white floating feathery aeroplanes are covered by the rains, lay dormant until the following spring and again the eyes of humanatiy are ravished by their yellow beauty. Nature's ways are wondrous and mysterious. How many of you who read this article have gone out into the country in June and watched the fairy aircraft bearing their tiny emblems of life, floating about in the air, settling here and there, knew when you looked at them floating upon the summer breeze that they contained the seeds of the dandelion plant, and it was the way of nature to perpetuate this beautiful flower, by finding for the seed in this manner friendly soil, where it could grow and blossom again at the proper time. Look about you in Waco and drink in the beauties of nature.

But yesteryear her calm, sweet face was framed in the open doorway, smiling a welcome home. When the sun-god had sunk to rest in the slowly purpling west, she, too, fell asleep—a calm, sweet sleep, eternal. Today they bore her hence to a grass-green spot in the holy place we call God's Acre, and there, hidden beneath a wealth of flowers, she awaits the resurrection morn. The flowers breathe of many friends and love, and bring tribute to her of affection and reverence of the hundreds who came to pay her the last sad rites of respect. Standing near, a venerable gray-haired soldier looking on, said solemnly, "It's good and kind of them to cover her last resting place with roses, but I'd rather have mine now." The old man's sentiment was like that of the poet Myers, who sang,

"Oh, friends, I pray tonight,
Keep not your kisses for my dead, cold brow,
The way is lonely; let me feel them now.
Think gently of me; I am travel worn;
My faltering feet are pierced with many a thorn.
Forgive! Oh, hearts estranged, forgive, I plead!
When dreamless rest is mine, I shall not need
The tenderness for which I long tonight."

Never to have doubted does not signify faith, but it rather tends to show that one is credulous. It is natural for a thinking man to doubt, and every man should do his own reasoning in religious matters. Doubt if you will, but always be strong enough to try to find what you believe to be the truth, then hold fast to it until you find that you have made a mistake. If you find that you have made a mistake, do not hesitate to take the other course, for every person should be intellectually honest.

There is an old bachelor in this city who makes a practice of carrying candy and chewing gum to give to his little friends as he meets them on the street or as he sees them in the yards as he passes along on his way to work. It is needless to say that the children like him, for children can feel the love that is radiated from other hearts, and they are quick to response to this love, because they are fresh from heaven and the holy city, where Love is all that there is to exercise of think about.

Gentleness is a quality that this strenuous age has tendency to eradicate from the disposition of humanity, and yet it is a most valuable quality. We need to exercise more patience, and cultivate more poise, for it is needed now more than ever in the history of the world, when every nerve is strained to keep up the artificial pace set by the strenuous age in which we live.

Secretary Knox assures the Cubans that there will be no intervention. We have intervened there as often as we care to, for we have had to spend a lot of money to keep the country in such a condition that American interests were safe. There isn't really much difference between intervention and maintaining the peace at a great expense for warships and troops.

If we are to believe the strenuous ex-president, this country is in a deplorable condition, for we have in the white house a man who is absolutely corrupt and is stealing the Republican nomination. When we have only one honest man in politics, it is time for us to take stock and find out whither we are drifting.

"Friendship by its very nature consists in loving, rather than being loved. In other words, friendship consists in being a friend, not having a friend."

There is something lacking in the make-up of the man who is not proud of a winning ball team.

KILLED MUSICIAN WHO ANNOYED HIM

RUSSIAN COLONEL BRANDISHED SWORD AFTER NIGHT OF REVELRY IN CAFE

Special to The Morning News.

Moscow, June 13.—A terrible tragedy has been enacted in a cafe-chantant at Kieff, Colonel Alexander Little killing a musician who had annoyed him. The colonel had come to the cafe, which is called the "Apollo," and is a favorite place of entertainment, in company with some fellow officers and some ladies. There was a similar party at the next table, and the two groups soon combined and arranged to take a private room. They were out to have a festive evening and money was not spared. Supper was ordered and champagne corks were soon merrily popping. To add to the gaiety of the party some of the singers and musicians who had finished their turns on the little stage in the public room were invited to entertain the officers and their fair friends. A band of singers sang Ezyba songs and the popular pieces Russians love, and the fun was fast and furious until 4 o'clock in the morning.

"Play the Saratoga march to end up," shouted Colonel Little to the pianist.

The man said he could not play the piece, as he did not know it by heart. The reply appears to have enraged the colonel, and he drew his sword. He rushed at the musician and slashed at him, cutting him in the neck just below the right ear. A gush of blood from the wound appeared. The officer and the singers rushed from the room, followed by the wounded man. He managed to stagger a few yards along the corridor and then fell dead.

There was a wild scene in the cafe when the news was spread by the musicians, and the people left hurriedly, fearing an incursion by the private room's locusts. The revellers in the bar, sobered by the tragedy they had witnessed, awaited the arrival of the commander of the colonel's regiment, to whom the manager of the place had telephoned. Half an hour later soldiers arrived and took the murderer into custody. The murdered pianist has left a wife and family dependent for. They are claiming an pension of $15 a month from the application.

T. R. MEN DELIGHTED

tests before the national committee will have to be gone over again," said Mr. Dixon, "and there may be Taft men on that committee who will not stand for steals of Roosevelt delegates like the steal in Kentucky and in California. It may be that we will not nominate a candidate for ten days after adjournment.

URGE T. R. TO BOLT.
Oklahoma G. O. P.'s Wire to Help
Start Third Party.

By The Associated Press

Tulsa, Okla., June 13.—Thomas A. Latta, Frank Perry and other prominent Roosevelt republicans of Oklahoma today began a concerted move to urge upon Roosevelt the necessity of bolting at Chicago in the event that he is not nominated before the national convention next week. Telegrams were sent by prominent Roosevelt men this afternoon to Wm. Bryan, requesting him to go to Chicago and personally assist in organizing a third party in conjunction with Roosevelt.

A mass meeting will be held here Friday night to take further steps in this line. Three hundred Roosevelt men signed a petition condemning what is termed a deliberate strategy to "delegate" by the national committee.

One wealthy republican here this afternoon offered to subscribe $5000 as a starter for a fund to finance special train to traverse the entire country in the event that Taft is nominated, for the purpose of defeating him.

One thousand dollars was wagered at odds of 5 to 4 by wealthy oil men today that Roosevelt will be the nominee of the regular convention.

LEFT-HANDEDNESS INHERITED.

The questions as to whether left-handedness is inherited is still doubtful, but Jordan has investigated 78 families, dealing with 3,000 individuals, and his evidence goes to show that the trait passes from father to son, cites Knowledge.

It is supposed that left-handedness is associated with the greater development of the right hemisphere of the brain. It is, however, important to distinguish between constitutional tendency and the result of education. Thus most parrots receive with the left foot, but that is because they are ordinarily approached in feeding with the right hand. When the left is consistently employed in the feeding the parrot responds with his right foot.

WHERE SCIENCE PALES.
People are said to 'become flat-footed by walking too much on the heel and by not giving the front of the foot enough work to do. It is also said that the arch of the foot needs the support of a leather sole. The barefoot boy may be the subject of a poet's ecstasy, but if this is true, the poet would better be occupied in warning him of the risk he is running.—Detroit Free Press.

Colorado River Rips Levee; Town Wiped Out; Populace Flees

Special to The Morning News.

San Bernardino, June 13.—Thousands of acres of land on the Arizona side of the Colorado river, across from old Fort Mojave, are under water as the result of the river overflowing today and bursting through the Cotton Land company levee. Lincolnville, just below Fort Mojave, is practically depopulated, the people fleeing to the higher ground for safety.

The break in the levee caused the river to fall three feet at Needles, but the government weather bureau predicted that the crest of the flood would not reach Needles until several days.

In a final effort to save Needles from inundation the Santa Fe railroad company tonight launched a power barge and several boats, which were put to work carrying in brush, which will be piled against the river bank and weighted down with rock and sand bags.

CONTEST CONTINUES TO GROW IN INTEREST

The headquarters over the Dixie theater was once the busiest places in the city yesterday. Callers were coming in every minute to learn more about the giving away of $15,000 worth of prizes in the biggest popularity contest ever inaugurated in Texas. Think of it—$15,000 given away free with admissions to Waco's most popular theaters, the Alamo, the Dixie and the Cozy! $5000 is the grand first prize, an $1800 Jackson auto is the second prize—more value than is usually given away as a first prize. To date the prizes announced are a diamond ring, displayed in Golding's window, which goes to a single lady; the Armstrong-Pfeaffe watch for schoolgirls, which is a beauty; two scholar ships in Toby's Practical College for pupils in Waco high school, which is a dandy. The organization prize, a $500 auto piano player or a Clickering Bros. piano, is a prize for a contestant endorsed by an organization, and goes to the club, lodge, school or church so nominating a contestant. Get your nominating in now and get a good start; half the battle is in the start. All you have to do is to let your friends know you are in the contest to win and have them vote for you when they go to the theatre. You can get your tickets now from the Contest Department over the Dixie Theatre. If you are a contestant or think of entering, come to Contest Headquarters and secure some tickets and place them amongst your friends. Ring up headquarters if there is anything you don't understand. The manager will be pleased to explain to you how it is done. Bring your nominations either to Headquarters or to one of the theatre offices. All nomination coupons carry a double vote value. You can secure all you want from the box offices of the Dixie, Alamo and the Cohan theatres. A locked ballot box will be placed at the entrance of the Alamo Theatre for contestants to cast their votes. It is not obligatory to cast your votes before the close of the contest. The keys to the ballot box will be held

RAYNOR URGED TO RUN FOR VICE PRESIDENT

SENATORS O'GORMAN, OVERMAN,
BACON, JOHNSON AND OTH-ERS MENTIONED.

Special to The Morning News.
Washington, June 13.—For the past week or ten days Democratic leaders in this city have been giving more and more attention to the list of vice presidential possibilities and the names of a dozen or more party men are being quietly talked of for the second place on the ticket. Among those who are being seriously discussed in this connection is Senator Rayner of Maryland.

It was learned today that a number of United States senators on the Democratic side of that chamber had within the past two weeks asked the Marylander if he would consent to his name being used in the party calculations now going on. Senator Rayner declared that he did object and would not under any circumstances be a candidate.

When today Senator Rayner repeated what he told his colleagues, He said that he was satisfied to remain in the senate and would not allow his friends to encourage discussion of his name for the vice presidential nomination.

The vice presidential nomination. There are other members of the senate whose friends are interested in placing them on the next Democratic ticket. For instance, Senator O'Gorman is being seriously regarded as a candidate, and if Speaker Clark or another westerner should be placed at the head of the ticket the New Yorker will be placed in a strong strategic position with regard to the vice presidential nomination. It is known, too, that he would accept the honor if it were offered him.

Senator Johnson, the new member from Maine, is another easterner who is being regarded as a strong possibility. His name on the ticket would strengthen it in New England, where a big part of the coming battle is to be fought. Congressman A. Mitchell Palmer of Pennsylvania, leader of the progressive wing of his party in that state and one of the strongest men in the house, is another likely candidate. Mr. Palmer's wife is a daughter of Robert B. Dixon of Taston, Md.

If a western candidate is to be selected for the second place, the name of Kern of Indiana, who ran with Bryan four years ago, is being prominently mentioned. This is true also of Senator Gilbert M. Hitchcock of Nebraska. Senator Hitchcock is a strong Harmon man and is a conservative. He was supported for the senate, however, by Bryan two years ago.

Senator Chamberlain of Oregon seems to be the only Pacific coast name that figures prominently in Democratic councils just at this time for the vice presidency. He was elected to the United States senate by a Republican legislature upon instructions in a statewide senatorial primary.

By some it is thought that a southern man ought to be put upon the ticket, and a strong move will be made at Baltimore to make that possible. The south has been too long neglected, it is pointed out, in the matter of Democratic national convention honors, and if an eastern candidate is nominated for head of the ticket there may be a combination effected that will force a southerner on at second place.

Two Lads Emulate Outlaw Tracy Fleeing From Parental Snare

Special to The Morning News

Ontario, June 13.—Because their previous escapades called forth harsh punishment in the shape of spankings, two Redlands boys, Walter Deason, 9, and Paul Dorman, 11, ran away and were captured by Ontario deputies after a series of exciting adventures.

The boys left Redlands at midnight Wednesday, walking to Redlands Junction, and stole a ride on a freight train. At Colton a brakeman put them off and they passed the night there, sleeping in a bakery wagon.

They continued on their way toward Los Angeles. At Decies hunger overcame them and they broke into the depot and secured a revolver and ammunition and food.

They went westward and at Quasiti they used the roof of the Southern Pacific depot as a target, one of the bullets narrowly missing Mrs. N. A. Mahon, wife of the agent. Mahon heard the shooting and took after the boys.

They got away from him and he telephoned to the Ontario police, who caught them as they were selling their revolver to a Mexican section hand for 50 cents.

MOTHER WINS SON AFTER FOUR YEARS.

Harrisburg, Pa., June 13.—Mrs. Jennie Lowe of Long Island City was awarded the custody of her 8-year-old son by William J. Judge Kunkel, the order produced about the most affecting scene ever observed in the court. As Mrs. Lowe began to order she fell to her knees before the bench and exclaimed: "Thank God! there is a God!" Then she went into hysterics.

William J. Judge rushed to the bench and loaded with his hands to be allowed to remain with the family of D. S. Albright of this city. He was charged of him for the last four years. Mrs. Lowe testified that the boy, when your years old, came here to visit the Albrights, and that they had refused several times to give him up. He seemed to have no recollection of his mother.
